

Black Dog Ride to the Red Centre

raising awareness
of depression

Saturday 11th September 2010

Last year Steve Andrews rode solo around Australia to raise awareness of depression. This year he's riding to the Red Centre and invites riders from all around the country to join him on this awesome adventure.

Whether you ride for a day or two, or go the whole distance to the Red Centre, you will become a Black Dog Rider and help to bring attention to this debilitating illness which will affect 1 in 5 Australians.
